Editor's Note

"One gc, 6 people, 4 months and a lifetime of memories."

It is with great honour and pleasure we present to you (FINALYYYY) the Yearbook for the class of 2022 -2023. When we first came across this idea not once did we think we'd finish it, considering our team's average work live balance varied somewhere in between waiting for canva docs to load and leaving messages on read.

Now, even tough our team rotated on something we'd like to call systemic hibernation, we are proud to have worked on this yearbook and trust us when we say that every step of the way it taught us something way more than just casual editing.

Huge thank you to all of you who submitted their responses on time and others, let's just say you are lucky we extended the last date. The pain of sorting out that whole google forms while renaming all ~250 pictures and aligning for a 0.1 difference is just some of the many troubles we took for our loving seniors. Just know that in every image, every name and every quote lie the blood, sweat and lost chemistry marks of your sweetest juniors. If you knew our initial launch date (multiple) you'd laugh but know that every team member contributed their best to the yearbook and we tried giving you guys something memorable hoping ya'll will cherish it as much as we did while making it.

Special thanks to some of the most amazing seniors (our honorary editors and yes they know who they are) for helping us when they could, dealing with our so amazing (they won't agree) ideas and helping us finish this magnificent piece of a yearbook today.

We indeed are grateful to you guys for giving us this opportunity, helping us to realise our true potential (and waste our time enough to be called jobless) and produce to you some of the finest work we might achieve in our lives.

To all our seniors , "There's some people who are so much a part of us, they'll be with us no matter what. They are our solid ground. Our North Star. And the small clear voices in our hearts that will be with us ... always."

The joy of being your juniors will be missed.

Yours sincerely,
Your most favorite juniors.

Yearbook Message

Hold on to the memories
they will hold on to you - Taylor Swift

"I know that most of you will probably be skipping this page, but for those choosing to give it a cursory glance, hello. I put off writing this message for a long time, mainly because I was lazy and partially because I did not know what to say. But I do know one thing with certainty, and that is that serving as head girl for this batch has been one of my greatest honours and proudest accomplishments. While some ups and downs came with this post, what I appreciate most is the connection I got to make with so many people. Whether it be fellow members of the student council, students from other schools, or the young children who look up to us as seniors.

We received our caps and gowns a few days ago, and that's when reality sunk in for me. Our school lives are over. When I think over the past 12 years, most of it seems to be a blur now. It all happened so quickly, somehow, between our chicken dances and water fights, we all seemed to have grown up. While I cherish every year I spent with you wonderful people (I'm lying), I find our final year the sweetest of the bunch. It has been marvellous to see you all grow both as individuals and as a batch. With the onset of physical school, after 2 long years of discord and brainly.com, we finally got to have our high school experience. Whether that be failing a subject for the first time, doing stupid activities with your friends, lying to your parents, or getting into a relationship. I treasure all the memories we made and am proud of the people you are and excited to see the people you become from here on forth.

Dear Class of 2023, thank you for everything."

House Messages

(From your fav captains and prefects)

Spring House

Soft tendrils curling around the tree branches slowly shedding the last remnants of snow, the first splotch of green in the dreary winter landscape. That is what the girls of Spring, who embody vitality & intelligence, are to the school body. In a decade of being in Spring, from a house member in the elocution, quizzing & debate team to the Junior Captain & now, in my final year of school, serving as the House Captain, my life in school has also been one of ascending the ranks of the house. The prickle of nervous anxiety while being seated before the green draped table on the stage, the jubilation when the announcer's drones 'Aaand the __ position for Goes to SPRING HOUSE', thunderously cheering for the green shirts during sports events & that swell of pride in your chest when a fellow green shirt struts across the stage to receive an accolade are the defining moments of belongingness & team spirit that binds us to our House. The only legacy that I hope that the upcoming batches & I can leave behind is that we are a house that harnesses this wealth of talent in our fold to propel the betterment of our house members & the house at large. May ADIS see the best, most efflorescent & bountiful of Springs in the years to come!

- Swati (Captain)

"As my 11 years long journey with spring house comes to an end I have nothing but love and admiration for all my housemates who brought out the best in me and always supported me. It has been an absolute pleasure being a part of the spring house council and working alongside my fellow council members. From literary to cultural to sports it was amazing to see the talents of the spring house. I have been lucky enough to explore my talents and learn from my mistakes by being a part of this house. I hope in the years to come, our house shines just as bright and many more become their best selves through the guidance of fellow housemates."

-Srinithi (Prefect)

"At first I wasn't happy I got spring, everybody was in summer my brother, my mother including my friends but now I'm glad I'm in spring and I wouldn't prefer any other house, It's perfect because, at the same time, I got assigned spring so did someone else ❤ the house spring means a lot to me and I'm proud to have represented it."

- Arya (Prefect)

Spring House

From the time I got my first green uniform till my final year as I graduate with the title of House Captain, not once have I ever regretted being part of the Spring House. I can safely say that holding this position has been one of the major highlights of my final year. I have been able to meet and work with so many individuals both teachers and students, with personalities ranging from kind, supportive and hard-working to egotistical, disrespectful and lazy. But if there is one thing I love about this house, it's how diverse our talent is, unlike the other three less successful houses, Spring has always been on top in all aspects of ADIS. All in all, I wish all my peers and juniors the best for the future regardless of what house they are in, and I hope you all have considered me, a decent house captain.

- Gautham (Captain)

"Much as the season of spring where new seedlings sprout out of the ground, this house has helped me grow from a shy, reclusive guy to a confident speaker. The chance to work beside my peers in organizing the house and school events with added perks of being able to easily cut classes has made it an absolute privilege and honour to call myself a part of the spring house. Thank you spring house for being a part of me up till now."

-Loren (Prefect)

"Being chosen as one of Spring house's flag bearers was an extremely gratifying experience. I had the honour and privilege of leading the football and track team to success by winning both of the competitions this academic year. I am forever thankful for the memories I have from the Spring House and they will always be cherished by me."

- Jared (Prefect)

Summer House

I have always admired my seniors holding the bright yellow flag and marching down for any event and that small kid always wished and hoped she'll be the one holding it someday .And here I am being the proud house captain of summer house . I had an amazing team who always supported me and helped me with my hectic schedules and cheered along hyping up our team along every step of the way. And as this year ends I take home with me the team's pride and the spirit in making even a loss a victory.

Pavithra (Captain)

"Getting to represent Summer House as a prefect was a memorable and proud achievement. In addition to developing my leadership and motivational skills, I got to learn from my Housemates. The smile on every Summer girl's face after events is a real win for our House."

- Jazlynn

Smile ☺

"Being a part of the Summer House Council as a benevolent, good-looking, cool, amazing Prefect, I was able to hone my skills as a leader and a human. All of us were by each other's sides through thick and thin, working with our housemates to be better every day. Summer is da best (though I stated otherwise a few times $\left(\hat{\circ} \right)$)"

-Arushi (Prefect)

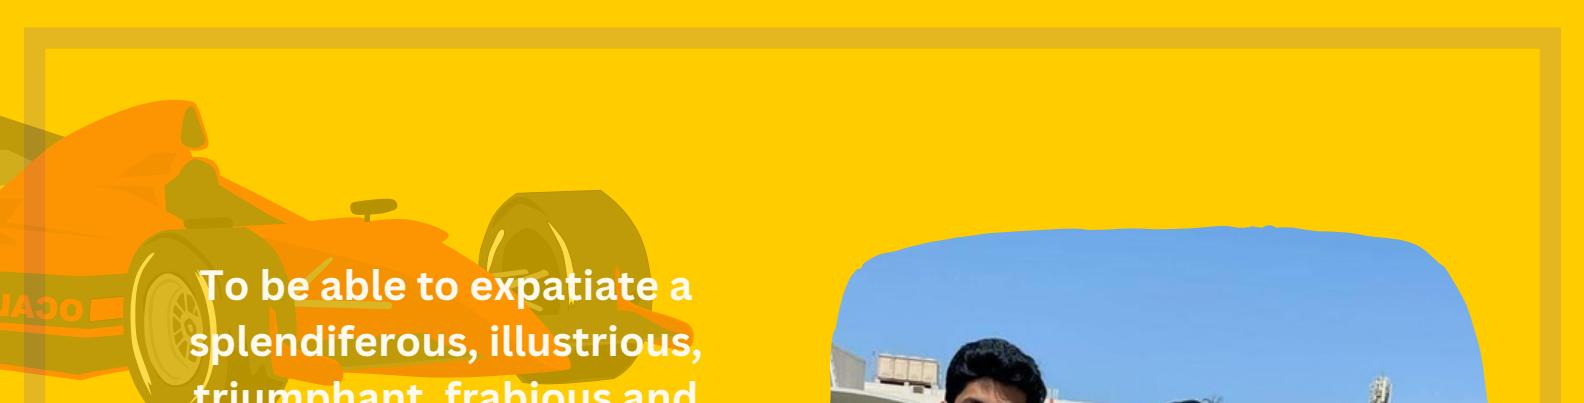

Summer House

It has been an absolute privilege to serve as your Summer House Captain. During my tenure, I have had the opportunity to work with each and every one of you, and I am proud of what we have achieved together. From organizing events that brought us closer as a house to participating in inter-house competitions and contributing to our community, I have seen the true spirit of teamwork, excellence, and kindness in action. I will always cherish the memories we have made and the lessons I have learned during my time as your captain. I am confident that our house will continue to thrive and reach new heights under the leadership of those who follow in my footsteps. During my tenure as house captain, I believe we as a house embodied the spirit of 'never give up' and 'participation is key', and although we might not have won the most, we did do our best and at the end of the day, that's what matters. Thank you for the support and trust you have placed in me. It has been an honour to serve as your Summer House Captain and I wish you all the best in your future endeavours.

Sincerely,
Devamsh Ajayakumar (Captain)

To be able to expatiate a splendiferous, illustrious, triumphant, frabjous and unforgettable period as a school prefect is an undertaking that can be considered non-viable. However, I feel the trophies and awards across all competitions throughout the academic year speak for the unmatched perspicacity and sheer indefatigability of the Summer House.

- Ammaar (Prefect)

"Being a part of the student council was a defining moment in my high school experience. As the school prefect, I was able to serve my peers and make a positive impact on our school community. From organising events to mediating conflicts, I learned valuable leadership skills and the importance of teamwork. I am grateful for the opportunities and memories that being a part of the student council provided me."

-Anandhu (Prefect)

Autumn House

twelve years ago if someone told me I was going to be the house captain of autumn I wouldn't have believed them. I've always looked up to my captains and not once did I ever think I'd be in that position as well. Autumn is the best house but the students are just shy to come forward and showcase their talents that were my main goal during my captaincy and I can proudly say that I achieved that. winning is obviously the goal for everyone but I am so so happy that every student in autumn gave their best this year in whatever field they participated in. I'm going to miss the EAST OR WEST AUTUMN IS THE BEST classic cliche slogan every autumn house student screaming during swim meets, athletic meets or any other event. I'm going to miss the chaos and the feeling of a team.

- Amal (Captain)

Becoming the prefect of a school where I have studied for 12 years is something I am immensely proud of. This opportunity allowed me to connect to the school in various ways and gave me duties where I could improve and get to know myself better. Representing the autumn house has been a constant part of my student years and it's something I will always look back on fondly.

- Aamna (Prefect)

Being a part of the council has imparted values and lessons in me that I can't ever forget. I have always dedicated myself to my duties and responsibilities. I'm glad for every opportunity that helped me make a difference in the school. This entire journey has allowed me to grow as an individual. I'm proud to represent the autumn house, where I have devoted myself for years and I'm truly grateful for all the moments I cherished with my house.

- Madiha (Prefect)

Autumn House

2022 marked the first physical school year after the pandemic and apart from the joys of meeting everyone, I thought nothing better could come from this year. The day I was announced as the autumn house captain, it was in my head that I have to give this house and the school everything I've got. I wanted to make sure that no student was left out. Now Alfred: I'm not sure if every student got the opportunities they deserved but I am sure that I gave it my best, and that is enough for me. MS Dhoni once said that a captain is only as good as his team, and you my team, and my autumn family made this journey as the house captain memorable. The one thing I learnt this year thanks to all of you is when you're backed up against the wall, instead of focusing on it closing in on you. Use it as back support to come out swinging. Lastly, I want to thank the vice captains Johan and Abhinav for supporting me every step of the way and the house prefects Devarya and Andrew for being the backbone.

Autumn will shine for years to come!

- Alfred (Captain)

I am glad to have been a part of Autumn House over my 14 years of studying at ADIS, my time with this house has been filled with valuable experiences that have helped me grow as an individual. I have made lasting friendships, developed new skills and gained confidence in myself, all thanks to the support and encouragement of my housemates and mentors. Holding the post of prefect for the autumn house this year has really been an amazing opportunity and it'll definitely be one that I will remember in the years to come.

Being in an active role holding the post of Cultural Vice-Captain in Grade 11 and School Prefect in Grade 12, has been exciting and challenging. In the past 2 years, I was able to get closer to the students, understand their problems and find a solution to them. I have also played a key role in developing their personalities and assisted them with platforms to acquire skills. Last but not least I would like to thank our House Mistress Mrs Olivia D Souza Ma'am, teachers and my fellow badge holders for their guidance, support and faith in me for moulding me into a better person. As I say goodbye to my duties, and as new roles are assigned for the next generation; wishing Autumn House the best to soar heights of success!

- Devarya (Prefect)

- Andrew (Prefect)

Winter House

2,4,6,8 who do we appreciate winter ... winter.

This sound is a core memory that will be embedded in my head for years to come. When I was in the first grade, I always wanted to be part of the winter house, and I was so happy that I did ever since then. It has been a beautiful journey for me to be a part of this house. The competitions and championships we won, the friends I made, and everything I learned all because of the winter house, and never once was I disappointed in my house.

From becoming the vice-captain of sports to become the house captain it's been an honour, I couldn't thank each and every one of yall who supported me throughout my journey while I was a badge holder. Especially this year, with winning 2 championships in athletics and swimming, it was a great moment of pride and joy for me to be called the captain and receive those trophies. I truly hope that our juniors are able to carry forward the legacy that was created by my seniors, which inspired me to lead.

We came we saw
Create, explore, expand, conquer

- Strelisha (Captain)

Winter House has always brought out the best within me and being able to hold the post of prefect was something more than I could have ever asked for. The opportunity to be a part of a team who always stood with me during the hurdles I faced this past year has been an honour and the thought of having to part with them is nothing but saddening. I'm truly grateful to have been a part of Winter House.

-Meghna (Prefect)

if you're not in winter you're irrelevant asf, it's as simple as that and if you're not in adis muroor, just kill yourself. (i was asked to be informal if i wanted to)now for the serious part, these 12 years I've spent in this school have helped me discover and devote myself to my passions and grow as a person. High school has changed me academically(i started failing) and pushed me to be involved in extracurriculars (to the point where I was never in class) but the memories and fun times I've had with my friends will always be cherished. Being on the student council will always be something I'll look back to and I'm so honoured for the opportunities that I've had in this school and for being able to represent it. For now, goodbye (unless I fail my boards).

- Ayesha (Prefect)

Winter House

The winter house was a symbol of comfort and strength for me. In the 14 years of my schooling, I always knew I could rely on the winter house and its students. I'm genuinely grateful for winter and the people around me as they've always supported and motivated me. Winter always felt like a family. From our seniors always helping us juniors out, it became our time to do so. Winter taught me to be patient and resilient. Winter taught me that, even if we don't win we put in our best effort, no matter what it takes. Winter taught me to live in the moment and to have fun regardless of what I'm doing. Winter always felt like home and to me that's what makes it special. It's been an honor to be your captain and I hope that I've made the year memorable. The '3..2..1 winter!!' will always be echoing in my head. From the debate to the football match, we've tried our best (and won). I'm grateful for the people around me and I hope that I could inspire others to lead.

Wishing you all the very best :)

- Sameer (Captain)

Winter house represents what an ideal adisian can achieve once they've been given the platform to do so. It has been my route through which I discovered the joys of ADIS.

- Ayush (Prefect)

Before you are a leader, success is all about growing yourself. When you become a leader, success is all about growing others.
